A traditional longhouse by Sarawak River

Take a study tour with veterinarian Dr Campbell Costello through Borneo, Kuala Lumpur and the Malay Peninsula. See a wide range of wildlife and visit rehabilitation centres as well as a mountain cattle farm, a horse hospital and the Penang Turf Club.

Explore beautiful colonial cities, visit a Dayak longhouse, experience rich history and vibrant culture and art, and enjoy delicious local cuisine at every stop. There are optional extensions after the tour to Langkawi or to Banjaran Hotsprings.

Tour Leaders

Dr Campbell Costello BVSc was raised on a cattle station in outback Queensland and graduated in 2010 to work in mixed-animal practice. He was the year's youngest rider in the world's longest horse race, the "Mongol Derby", in 2012 and has since returned to Mongolia several times as one of the senior veterinarians and crew for the race. In 2013 he trekked across the Wakhan Corridor of Afghanistan before relocating to the Highveldt of South Africa as a large African game and wildlife veterinarian. He has since worked in Australia as a veterinary contractor in the international livestock sector, taking him all over the world. In 2016 Campbell was stationed in Kazakhstan as the head veterinarian and farm manager of an Angus Beef Cattle farm and helped establish one of the country's first cattle ventures since the demise of the Soviet Union. Campbell was also one of the only English-speaking veterinarians to attend the "World Nomad Games" in Kyrgyzstan. In early 2019 Campbell was the mounted veterinarian for the "Gaucho Derby" recce mission, which involved riding across the Argentine area of Patagonia for several days, monitoring the local Criollo horses and mapping a basic route for the inaugural "Gaucho Derby" race in 2020.
