Cotopaxi Volcano

Ecuador is a land of enormous cultural and natural diversity. Its cultural legacy encompasses the descendants of Spanish conquistadores and many distinct indigenous communities. Its bio-diversity is extraordinary, the jewel in its crown being the incomparable Galápagos Islands. This remote island group encompasses cool lava landscapes, cactus forests, lush green highlands, turquoise coves and perfect white sand beaches, and is the only place in the world where it is possible to swim with penguins and tropical parrot fish at the same time.

This tour encapsulates the great variety to be found within this compact country, alongside a wide ranging professional programme of dental visits and talks. Experience colonial Quito, the exquisite cloud forests of Mindo, the high country thermal springs at Papallacta in the Andes and finally the incomparable Galápagos islands on a private charter first-class yacht. There is also the option to extend at an eco lodge in the Amazon jungle after the tour. This tour is strictly limited to a total of sixteen people, with fourteen spaces available to fill.

Tour Leader

Dr. Ashok Sethi has pioneered, in the UK and internationally, the art and science of surgical and restorative implant dentistry for 25 years. His practice is totally dedicated to implants, achieving outstanding success rates in terms of predictability as well as aesthetic and functional outcome. He conceived and taught the Diploma in Implant Dentistry of the Royal College of Surgeons of England. He is a founding member and past president of the ADI and has been elected as an honorary life member of the Association. He has written Practical Implant Dentistry jointly with Thomas Kaus, which has been translated into 10 different languages. Ashok has led a wide range of successful dental study tours to destinations including Vietnam and Cambodia, China, Chile, Japan and India.

A traditional Andean market

2 nights Quito – 2 nights Mindo Cloud Forest – 3 nights Papallacta
– 4 nights Galápagos Islands – 1 night Quito

Day 1: Quito (Fri, 19 Aug) D

Pm: Arrive in Quito, a beautiful city containing superbly preserved colonial architecture, and settle in at your hotel. Spend the rest of the day at leisure.

Eve: Enjoy a welcome dinner at Somos, a contemporary Ecuadorian restaurant.

Day 2: Quito (Sat, 20 Aug) B D

Am: Explore Quito on a guided tour. Walk through the attractive, palm-shaded Plaza de la Independencia, visit the gorgeously ornate 16th century church of La Compania de Jesus and visit Monasterio de San Francisco, the oldest church on the American continent.

Pm: Visit a dental teaching hospital in Quito to learn about dental education, or spend the afternoon at leisure.

Eve: Dinner at an Ecuadorian restaurant.

Day 3: Quito / Mindo (Sun, 21 Aug) B L D

Am: Drive to El Mitad del Mundo - the 'Middle of the World' – and straddle the equatorial line. Drive up to the rim of the biggest volcanic crater in South America, the extinct Pululahua Volcano, for wonderful views and lunch.

Pm: Lunch by the crater with spectacular views. Continue to Mindo cloud forest, where you will stay at the Sachatamia Lodge, and take a nature walk.

Eve: Ashok Sethi will deliver clinical lectures. Talks: “Assessment in diagnosis and Is time an issue?” and “Immediate versus staged treatment?”

Day 4: Mindo (Mon, 22 Aug) B L D

Am: The cloud forests are a unique ecosystem fed by the misty clouds sitting on the slopes of the Andes. Rise early the following morning to watch an incredible variety of birdlife, including hundreds of species of jewelled hummingbirds. Visit the Mariposario Mindo Butterfly Farm.

Pm: Take a cable car high above the cloud forest valley and the Rio Nambillo below. Walk with a naturalist guide along trails through delicate clusters of wild orchids, ferns and waterfalls wreathed in silver mists, amidst swarms of vivid birds and butterflies.

Eve: Take a night walk to see spiders and other nocturnal creatures.

Day 5: Mindo / Papallacta (Tues, 23 Aug) B D

Am: Rise early again to spot the early bird activity in Mindo. After breakfast drive to the high Andes of Ecuador, into the paramo and the montane forest, rich in unusual flora and fauna such as the rare, gnarled Polylepis tree - one of the oddest and rarest trees on the planet.

Pm: Continue to Papallacta, a thermal area high in the Andes where hot springs bubble up next to the Papallacta River. Check into Termas de Papallactas thermal resort, where the waters reputedly have healing properties.

Eve: Hear dental lectures in the evening. Talks: “New concepts in implant dentistry

- avoiding cement and screws" and
"Teamwork – spreading the risk".

Day 6: Papallacta (Wed, 24 Aug) B D

Am: Visit the Antisana Ecological Reserve in the central highlands, located at the feet of the 5705 metre volcano, Mount Antisana. Explore the dramatic altiplano landscapes with spectacular snow capped mountains as backdrop and look out for the various species of condor that inhabit the area.

Pm: Return to Papallacta and spend the rest of the day at leisure enjoying the hot springs.

Eve: Have dinner at Guango Lodge before setting out on a nocturnal nature walk.

Day 7: Papallacta (Thur, 25 Aug) B D

Am: Visit the local market at Sangolqui, a pretty colonial village in pastel hues, and browse among the stalls with the locals.

Pm: Visit the Centro Medico in Papallacta and learn about rural dentistry in the Andes.

Day 8: Papallacta / San Cristobal Island, Galápagos (Fri, 26 Aug) B L D

Am: Your next stop is Ecuador's ecological wonderland – the Galápagos Islands. Fly to San Cristobal Island and board the Solaris private yacht for four nights cruising around Espanola, Floreana, Santiago, Bartolomé and Santa Cruz Islands.

Pm: Tour the Interpretation Centre and see giant tortoises.

Day 9: Espanola Island (Sat, 27 Aug) B L D

Am: Wet landing at white-sand Gardener Bay, home to sea lions, three species of Darwin's finches, Española mockingbirds, green sea turtles, colorful tropical fish, including yellow-tailed surgeon fish, angelfish, parrotfish, manta ray, white-tipped reef sharks and playful sea lions. Opportunity to snorkel.

Pm: Land at Punta Suarez to spot sea lions, red and green marine iguanas, Española lava lizards and diverse seabirds including Galapagos hawks, mockingbird, finches, Galapagos doves, blue-footed and Nazca boobies, swallow-tailed gulls, red-billed tropicbirds and waved albatross.

Day 10: Floreana Island (Sun, 28 Aug) B L D

Sacha Lodge

Amazon extension at Sacha Lodge

The Sacha Lodge team will meet you in Coca and guide you to the Lodge, which blends seamlessly into its forest surroundings. You could see giant otters duck, dive and call to each other as you eat breakfast; caimans glide under the walkway as you head back to your room; hear monkeys chattering outside your balcony; or see giant sloths hanging out on trees by the cabins.

A typical day at Sacha begins at sunrise or earlier, taking advantage of the cool morning hours when the rainforest's animals are most active. Each day you will return to the Lodge after the morning activity for lunch. Relax until the afternoon excursion between 3pm and 4:30pm, which often continues into the evening when the nocturnal insect and frog chorus begins. Days at Sacha Lodge do not end with the fading of the light, or even with dinner. Night walks and canoe trips, with the aid of flashlights, often reveal creatures seldom seen during daylight.

Between excursions you are at leisure to enjoy the Lodge, lounging on sun chairs on the Balsa with a book or cooling off in the Lake Pool.

*Please note: activities are subject to weather, though Forest Walks, the Kapok Tower, and Canopy Walk are the keystones of the Sacha Lodge experience.

Facts on the Galápagos Islands

- The first recorded visitors to the Islands were the Spanish. Bishop Tomás de Berlanga arrived in 1535 and nicknamed the giant tortoises he saw 'Galápagos', after a popular type of saddle.
- The Spanish also called them 'the Enchanted Isles' as treacherous currents and swirling mists caused sailors to frequently lose sight of islands right in front of them.
- The Galápagos Islands were home to the only surviving giant Pinta tortoise, 'Lonesome George', who sadly died in June 2012.
- The convergence of three major oceanic currents brings an incredible mix of marine life to Galápagos.
- The endemic Galápagos marine iguana is the only lizard to swim in the ocean.
- Darwin's research in Galápagos led to his theory of The Origin of Species.
- In 1978 UNESCO designated Galápagos as the first World Heritage site.
- Due to the early presence of both Spanish and English inhabitants in Galápagos, the Islands now have both Spanish and English names.
- The Galápagos penguin is the only to be found in the northern hemisphere and to breed in the tropics.
- A Galápagos tortoise can weigh up to 595lb (270kg) with a carapace length of 4ft (1.2m) and outlive most humans.
- The Galápagos Islands are home to the world's largest cormorant and the only one unable to fly.
- Galápagos has one of the world's rarest ecosystems in which the herbivores at the top of the food chain are reptiles.
- Galápagos swallow-tailed gulls are the only gulls in the world to feed at night.
- The scolopendra centipede is an 11-inch (28-cm) long carnivorous centipede. It's not unusual for it to devour whole lava lizards or baby rats.

Galápagos weather in August

August is cool and dry in the Galápagos, with a very comfortable 19°C at night and a daytime temperature of around 24°. Rainfall is at its lowest now and it is one of the best times of the year to spot dolphins and whales. August is a busy month for Galapagos wildlife. In August Galapagos wildlife includes California sea lions birthing. Pups are just 30 inches long and weigh only 13 pounds. During August the Galapagos giant tortoises are also very busy. They lay eggs during this month on Santa Cruz Island. Bird life is also rather active during August in Galapagos. A special treat is that the waved albatross is nesting during this month.

There is nowhere else in the world like the Galápagos Islands, where each island is distinct with its own landscapes, flora and fauna. In the cool and dry months like August, the seas are cool and rich in nutrients - the perfect time of year for marine species like Sealions, Sea

Turtles, and species of Seabird, who find food plentiful. Migratory whales are also abundant at Galapagos during August, as are huge whale sharks and Manta Rays. August is also time for hatching of chicks, both Blue footed boobies and Frigates have new borns in the nest. Parents take turns to fish for food while the other takes care of the chicks.

Termas de Papallacta Resort

Hotels

Hilton Colon Hotel (Quito)

A modern 4-star hotel, this is a typical Hilton venue – comfortable, efficient and centrally located with good, friendly customer service. It also offers some wonderful views.

Sachatamia Lodge (Mindo)

This is a charming lodge with cabins, as well as rooms in the main building, making good use of beautiful local woods and crafts. Located in a private ecological reserve consisting of more than 750 acres, it incorporates five pristine rivers within the cloud forest and has a pool.

Termas de Papallacta (Papallacta)

Termas de Papallacta is perched in a high Andean valley, surrounded by green mountains. The spa resort offers relaxing natural thermal baths, spa treatments, an excellent restaurant and attractive rooms.

Sacha Lodge (Amazon extension)

Each cabin, built of traditional materials with a high thatched roof and private shaded terrace with hammock, blends into the lush surroundings. The cabins provide a spacious private bathroom with flushing toilet and hot shower, some with floor-to-ceiling windows for an immersive jungle experience. All cabins are screened against insects and contain ceiling fans above two comfortable double beds. There is the lovely ‘Balsa’, a covered al fresco lakeside lounge, as well as a bar, restaurant and shop.
