Wildflowers, Wine and History in Crete

18 – 23 April 2022

5 nights in Chania

Jon Baines
tours

Visiting Crete is a sensory adventure filled with the scents of rosemary, thyme, sage, lavender, and chamomile. An island brimming with beautiful flowers and stunning landscapes, there are around 2,000 species of plants, about 10% of them endemic to Crete. The peak explosion of wildflowers occurs from March to May, when wild orchids and tulips are joined by chamomile, poppies, anemones, iris, field gladiolus and much more.

Crete's natural beauty is equalled only by the richness of its history. The island is the birthplace of the first advanced society on European soil, the Minoans, who ruled some 4000 years ago. At the crossroads of three continents, Crete has been coveted and occupied by consecutive invaders. Evidence of this long history can be seen in Chania, where mighty fortresses preside over labyrinthine lanes and where beautifully restored Renaissance mansions rub rafters with mosques and Turkish bathhouses.

In Crete, 'locavore' is not a trend but a way of life. Rural tavernas often produce their own meat, cheese, olive oil, raki and wine, and catch their own seafood. This tour takes you across this wonderful island and looks at history, both ancient and contemporary. Explore Crete's rich botany, beautiful landscapes and delicious food and wine, and learn how all of these intertwine.

Tour Leaders

Valerie and Clive have spent their working lives in education at all levels, with adults and children across the age range. They have lived and worked abroad and have travelled extensively. Since retiring, they have lived in Crete, building a house and garden on a wild and windy hillside. In her capacity as the Branch Head of the Mediterranean Garden Society on Crete, Valerie organises a variety of events on the island and hosts visitors to her garden from as far afield as Australia and California. Clive, as a tour leader, has led groups of walkers on Crete, mainland Greece and other islands. Both have joined previous Jon Baines Tours trips and enjoyed the cultural, historical and local emphasis that is at the heart of the philosophy of the company, along with the camaraderie of fellow tour members. The tour on Crete will emulate this, including the delights of Cretan cuisine.

Itinerary 18 – 23 April 2022

B = Breakfast L = Lunch D = Dinner

Day 1: Chania (Mon, 18 April) D

Pm: Arrival and transfer to the Porto Veneziano Hotel.

Eve: A brief background on the tour. Welcome dinner at Salis, which grows most of its own produce and uses local, seasonal ingredients, with local wine.

Day 2: Chania (Tues, 19 April) B D Landscapes, food and wine of Crete

Am: Explore Chania's old town on a walking tour with Clive. See the city's impressive 14th-century harbour and 16th-century lighthouse. Learn of Crete's Egyptian, Venetian, Ottoman and more recent influences walking the narrow streets, with free time for lunch.

Pm: Drive out to the foothills of the White Mountains and visit the Botanical Park of Crete. The park is spread over 20 hectares with microclimate, allowing a wide range of plants and wildlife to thrive including fruit trees, herbs, medicinal and ornamental plants. Meet with the owners and learn how Crete's history and landscapes influenced its cuisine and wine. There will be time to explore the park with an expert in Mediterranean plants.

Eve: Learn about the food and wine of Crete. See a cooking demonstration (with the option to take part). A wine specialist will talk about the endemic Cretan grapes grown in the park, with the opportunity to sample the different wines they produce. Enjoy dinner at the park's restaurant where all ingredients are locally sourced, including those grown on site.

Day 3: Chania (Wed, 20 April) B L Minoans and Crete's classical history

Am: Drive to Heraklion and visit the world-renowned Bronze Age Palace of Knossos with a specialist guide.

Pm: Following lunch visit the Heraklion Archaeological Museum which includes important finds from the island, including the Phaistos Disc and Minoan frescoes. Dinner is at leisure but Clive and Val will be happy to accompany people to a local taverna.

Day 4: Chania (Thurs, 21 April)

Wildflowers and the Real Crete

Am: An early start to visit the Arkadi Monastery. Drive up to the Plateau of Gious Kampos and see its endemic wild tulips, wild orchids and a host of other wildflowers.*

Pm: Spend some time at the attractive village of Spili and have lunch at a local taverna. Drive west along the southern coast and stop at Frangokasteli, where there are options to visit the castle, have a drink or swim from a lovely sandy beach. Return through the White Mountains to Chania.

Day 5: Chania (Fri, 22 April)

B D

The Battle of Crete and Ill Met by Moonlight

Am: With a specialist guide take part in a tour tracing Operation Mercury (the German invasion of Crete) and the Battle of Crete. Visit Maleme and Souda Bay, the war cemeteries, war memorial and museum.

Pm: Learn of the British SOE and Cretan partisans and the story of the kidnap of General Heinrich Kreipe, later written up by the writer Patrick Leigh Fermor and made into the film Ill Met by Moonlight.

Eve: Farewell dinner at Manousakis Winery, with its lovingly tended organic vines, with tastings of Cretan wine.

Day 6: Chania (Sat, 23 April)

Am: Depart Chania.

* As a general note, there can be no guarantee about precise flowering times, due to the nature of spring.
