

Machu Picchu

Midwifery and Childcare in Peru

12 – 23 April 2020

Supported by the Royal College of Midwives

Lake Titicaca

Peru - land of gold and the sun-worshipping Incas, the biggest empire in pre-Columbian America. From its tropical rainforests and indigenous tribes, to the towering Andes - where rural life has changed very little over the last four centuries - to the coastline dotted with Inca ruins, Peru is an extraordinary destination. This tour takes you on a journey from Lima, a modern city with a colonial past, through the Andes to Cusco and the lost city of Machu Picchu; the most magnificent legacy of the Incas. See how both the Inca and Spanish empires left their mark on Peru.

This bespoke tour, supported by the Royal College of Midwives, combines a rich cultural programme with CPD professional visits. These visits examine midwifery in Peru, a country where the role of the midwife and natural birth is still developing.

Arrive in Lima and settle into the hotel, where you will have dinner. Spend the evening at leisure.

The city of Lima has much to offer, as you will discover on a guided tour of some of its renowned sites. Starting at the Plaza Mayor, where Lima was founded as 'The City of Kings' in 1535, see the Presidential Palace and imposing Lima Cathedral. Wander through colonial style porticoes and visit the beautiful San Francisco Church, with its catacombs containing the skulls and bones of 70,000 people. In the afternoon visit the Instituto Nacional Materno Perinatal-Maternidad de Lima, a large public hospital. Meet with the midwives who work there and see the maternity wards. In the evening there will be a welcome dinner.

The following morning visit the University San Marco, which runs a midwifery training course. There will be time to meet with lecture staff, hear about training and the challenges that midwives in Peru face. After lunch there will be a panoramic bus tour of Lima taking in the modern parts of the city, including upmarket Miraflores and bohemian Barranco.

Next morning fly to Cusco, known to the Incas as the 'navel of the world'. Transfer to your hotel in the Sacred Valley, stopping en route at the Inca ruins of Sancayhuaman and Tambomachay. The rest of your afternoon is at leisure. Dinner will be served at the hotel in the evening and you will be joined by Leonie Lange, a German-born midwife who has been living in Peru for 25 years and is an expert in traditional midwifery and natural medicine.

After breakfast the next day visit the local hospital of Kausay Wasi Cosa, a privately-run rural health care centre. Meet with the local staff to learn about rural health care and the facilities available for pregnant women and during childbirth. This provides stark contrast to the medical facilities seen in Lima. In the afternoon drive through the Sacred Valley, which was the Inca heartland and is still littered with superb Inca ruins. Visit Pisac to see its citadel, which is built in the form of a partridge, spend time at its market and explore the Inca ruins.

The next day travel through the Sacred Valley, following the route of the Urubamba River to the mighty temple fortress of Ollantaytambo. Explore these magnificent ruins before spending the rest of the afternoon at leisure to relax before an early start the next day.

Next morning rise early to visit the famous Machu Picchu ruins. Take the train through the Valley beside Urubamba River to the hot spring town of Aguas Calientes - the gateway to Machu Picchu. From here take the short bus ride up to the magnificent UNESCO World Heritage Site. Spectacular Machu Picchu is a masterpiece of engineering and architecture, set on towering green peaks high in the Andes. Never revealed to the conquering Spaniards, it was virtually forgotten until the early 20th century. Explore the stunning mountaintop city in the company of an expert guide with time at leisure before returning to Aguas Calientes.

The following morning there is the option of a second visit to Machu Picchu in time for sunrise, or you can simply relax and enjoy the local hot springs. After lunch take the train back to the Sacred Valley and transfer to Cusco to check into your hotel.

Cusco is a fascinating city literally layered in history, with beautiful Spanish colonial buildings built on top of sturdy Inca foundations. On a morning tour of the city visit both Inca and colonial highlights, including the 'Temple of the Sun' and the cathedral, and enjoy the colour and bustle around the Plaza de Armas and its cobbled streets. Visit the local market and meet with a herbalist to learn about traditional medicine. The afternoon is at leisure to continue exploring Cusco, to shop or simply relax.

In the morning set off across the spectacular altiplano to Puno and Lake Titicaca, through petrified forests and by emerald lakes, with volcanoes dotting the horizon. The road winds its way through the Andes and their jagged peaks, with many stops to admire the spectacular views along the way. One of these stops will be to visit APAINE, a healthcare establishment for poor communities in the Andes, which mainly engage with children with disabilities or in need of rehabilitation. Continue to Puno and check into your hotel, situated on the edge of Lake Titicaca.

Spend the following day exploring the impressive expanse of Lake Titicaca, the world's highest navigable lake. Visit the PIAS hospital ship, which is run by the Peruvian Navy and sails around the lake visiting remote communities to offer healthcare. Take a boat out onto the lake to beautiful Amantani Island and meet the Quechua-speaking locals, who still live a very traditional life style. Explore the Inca ruins of Pachatata on the island before returning to the mainland. That evening fly back to Lima where you will spend your final night in Peru.

The next day the morning is at leisure before flying home.
